- Manage your contact center operations from any remote location

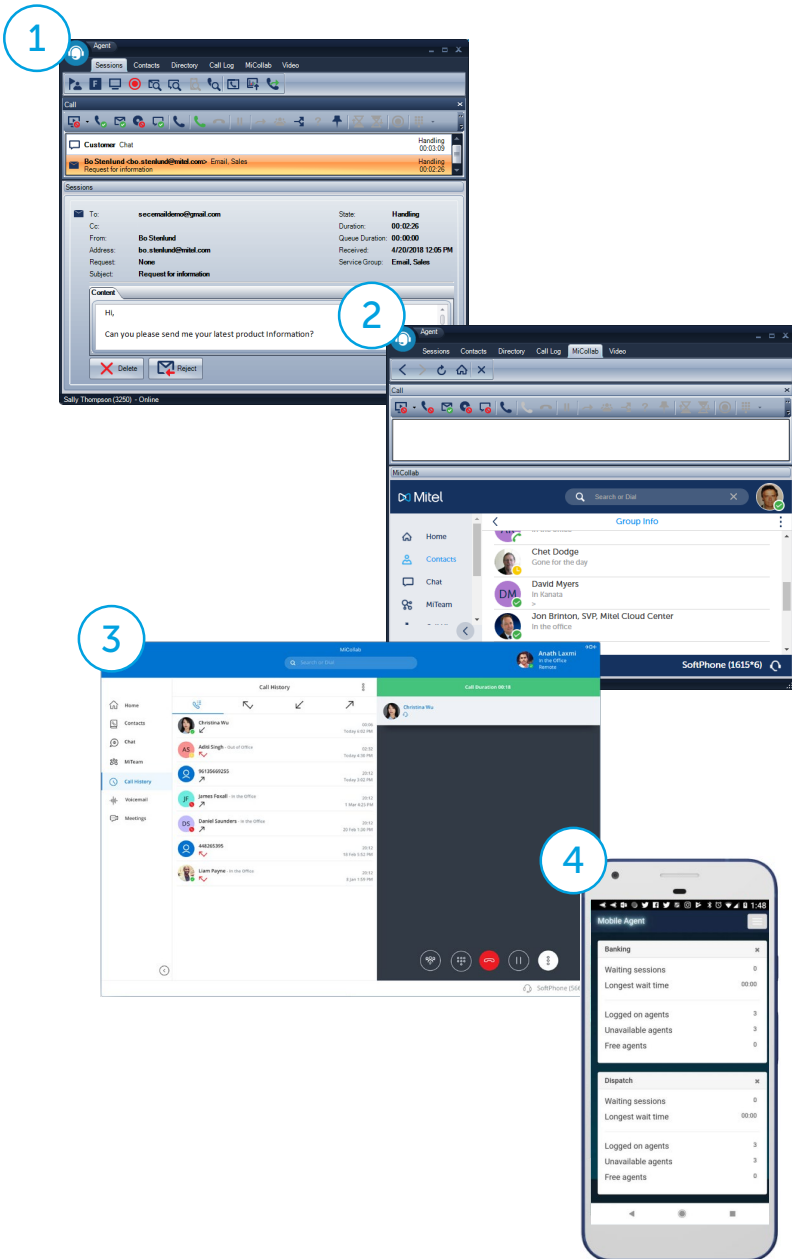

Mitel's MiContact Center Enterprise effortlessly extends your contact center operations anywhere, any time.

Your contact center staff need a platform that allows them to get work done, regardless of location.

In today's day and age, there are many scenarios where workplace flexibility is required. Contact centers are no longer confined to the traditional office building. Now, contact center staff can work from home, in the car, and even from a hotel room.

Mitel's MiContact Center Enterprise and MiCollab enable remote contact center staff to do their jobs effectively as if they were working in the contact center building.

Agents handle omnichannel customer interactions, supervisors monitor and coach agents, and managers seamlessly operate the contact center from any location.
